Orlando, Here We Come!

The PBL National Leadership Conference will be held June 29 – July 2, 2005, in Orlando, Florida. Missouri PBL will be well-represented at the conference. Besides participating in competitive events and attending the various workshop sessions available, members will be able to enjoy many attractions in Orlando. These include Epcot, Disney World, Universal Studios, Sea World, and Busch Gardens, among other attractions. Also, our own Tim Jackson, of University of Missouri-St. Louis, will be running for the position of PBL National President. Be sure to stop by his campaign booth and cheer him on!

State Leadership Conference

The Missouri PBL State Leadership Conference was held April 1-2, 2005, at the Ramada Inn in Jefferson City. Attendance was great with 331 people, including 266 students and 65 advisers representing 29 chapters. The program included two additions: IC3 Certification Testing on Thursday evening and all day Friday, and a Career Expo on Thursday, which provided an opportunity for PBL members to practice interview skills and meet with potential employers. In addition, two leadership workshops were offered. One of these was led by North Central Region Vice President Tim Jackson, concerning Interview Etiquette. The other workshop was conducted by the Professional Division members on "Steering Toward an Internship on Your Road to Success," which featured a panel discussion with Professional Division members. The competitive events results are included in this newsletter.

Local Officer Training

The second annual Local Officer Training took place Saturday, January 29, at Evangel University in Springfield, Missouri. Students from several PBL chapters gathered to participate in a fun and eventful day. The conference contained four main topics: communication, leadership, teamwork, and officer responsibilities. The day also included roundtables and teambuilding activities. Michelle Prenger, Vice President, successfully organized the event.
